Misericordias Domini K.222  |  Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, composer of over 600 musical works, completed most of his sacred works before the age of twenty. Combining Classical style with the counterpoint of the Baroque period, Mozart created a unique blend of chromatic harmony and traditional character. Elector Maximilian II Joseph of Bavaria commissioned Misericordias Domini to “hear some contrapuntal music” for the first Sunday in Lent, 1775.

Misericordias Domini cantabo in aeternum. Of the Lord’s mercies we will sing.

Christus factus est pro nobis obediens  |  Anton Bruckner

Anton Bruckner was an Austrian composer of the nineteenth century and was largely known for his sacred music. Bruckner came from a Catholic family of a small village outside of Linz and was sent to sing as a choirboy in an Augustinian monastery at the age of thirteen. Deeply religious, there would become a large controversy as to whether Bruckner subscribed to the Roman Catholic Cecilian Movement. This society held that liturgical music follows three ideals: sixteenth-century polyphony represents the character of sacred music, Gregorian chant should create the foundation of Catholic music, and the concert style of liturgical performances was unbefitting. His motets harken to that Palestrinian polyphony and chanted character; however, his larger sacred works far exceed the parameters of the Cecilians. Christus factus est pro nobis obediens performed this evening presents a rich combination of traditional polyphony and Romantic harmonies.

Christus factus est pro nobis obediens usque ad mortem, mortem autem crucis. Christ became obedient for us unto death, even to death, death of the cross.

Propter quod et Deus exaltavit illum et dedit illi nomen, quod est super omne nomen. Therefore God exalted Him and gave him a name, which is above all names.

Ühte laulu tahaks laulda (I’d Like To Sing A Song) lyrics by Gustav Suits

Ühte laulu tahaks laulda, ühte ainukest:
Mis kui vägev merelaine kerkiks südamest.
Mis kui vägev merelaine veereks ülemaa,
Kohaks läbi rahva hingest, keelata ei saa,
Kohaks läbi rahva hingest, tõuseks meestemeel.
Välguksid ju vaimumõõgad suurte tööde teel.
Välguksid ju vaimumõõgad kodutaeva all,
Kumaksid öös kuldsemini tähed üleval.
Ühte laulu tahaks laulda, ühteainukest:
Mis kuivägev merelaine kerkiks südamest.

I’d to sing a song, I just this only one:
That would roll over land like a huge wave of sea,
That would sough through the spirit of people, with no denial
That would sough through the spirit of people, arousing men’s minds.
The swords of spirit would flash on the way of great deeds.
The swords of spirit would flash und home skies,
The stars above would shine brighter at night.
I’d like to sing a song, just this only one:
That would rise as a huge wave of sea from the heart.

Mass of a Troubled Time  |  Brian A. Schmidt

I. Kyrie
II. Gloria

Mass of a Troubled Time was written in loving memory of my grandmother Margaret C. Urbach after her death. This mass is a song of hope defining the struggles, anguish, longing, and heartache after a loved one’s passing. The movements Kyrie, Gloria Sanctus/Benedictus and Agnus Dei are original to the mass structure with the inclusion of Psalm 23 in place of the traditional Credo text and a final Amen.

- Brian A. Schmidt

I. Kyrie

Kyrie eleison,
Christe eleison,
Kyrie eleison.

Lord, have mercy,
Christ, have mercy,
Lord, have mercy.
II. Gloria

Gloria in excelsis Deo, Et in terra pax hominibus
bonae voluntatis, Laudamus te, benedicimus te,
adoramus te, glorificamus te, Gratias agimus tibi
propter magnam gloriam tuam, Domine Deus, Rex coelestis, Deus Pater omnipotens.
Domine Fili unigenite, Iesu Christe,
Domine Deus, Agnus Dei,
Filius Patris,
Qui tollis peccata mundi,
miserere nobis,
suscipe deprecationem nostram,
Qui sedes ad dexteram Patris,
miserere nobis,
Quoniam tu solus sanctus,
tu solus Dominus,
tu solus altissimus, Iesu Christe, cum sancto spiritu in gloria Dei Patris. Amen.

Glory to God in the highest.
And on earth peace to all those of good will.
We praise thee, we bless thee,
we worship thee, we glorify thee,
We give thanks to thee
according to thy great glory,
Lord God, Heavenly King,
God the Father almighty.
Lord Jesus Christ the only begotten Son.
Lord God, Lamb of God,
Son of the Father.
Thou who takest away the sins of the world,
have mercy upon us.
Receive our prayer.
Thou who sittest at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy upon us.
For Thou alone art holy.
Thou alone art the Lord.
Thou alone art the most high, Jesus Christ.
With the Holy Spirit in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

Dirait-on  Morten Lauridsen from Les Chansons des Roses

In addition to his vast output of German poetry, Rilke (1875-1926) wrote nearly 400 poems in French. His poems on roses struck me as especially charming, filled with gorgeous lyricism, deftly crafted and elegant in their imagery. These exquisite poems are primarily light, joyous and playful, and the musical settings are designed to enhance these characteristics and capture their delicate beauty and sensuousness. Distinct melodic and harmonic materials recur throughout the cycle, especially between Rilke’s poignant Contre Qui, Rose (set as a wistful nocturne) and his moving La Rose Complète. The final piece Dirait-on, is composed as a tuneful chanson populaire, or folksong, that weaves together two melodic ideas first heard in fragmentary form in preceding movements.

- Morten Lauridsen
RAINER MARIA RILKE
from Les Roses

Abandon entouré d’abandon, tendresse touchant aux tendresses…
C’est ton intérieur qui sans cesse se caresse, dirait-on;
se caress en soi-même,
par son propre reflet éclairé.
Ainsi tu inventes le thème du Narcisse exaucé.

English translation by Barbara and Erica Muhl

Abandon surrounding abandon, tenderness touching tenderness…
Your oneness endlessly touches itself, so they say;
self-caressing
through its own clear reflection.
Thus you invent the theme of Narcissus fulfilled.

Meestelaulud (Men’s Songs)  |  Veljo Tormis

I. Meeste laul (Men’s Song)
VII. Teomehe-laul (Serf’s Song)
VIII. Tantsulaul (Dancing Song)

Estonian national musical expression is based on runosongs, an age-old traditional song repertoire dating back thousands of years. Mainly, protective and location-devoted girls and women, who have passed it down to our times, maintained this music. These songs are sometimes called women’s songs. Their characteristic features are alliteration and trochee of four feet. The men, on the other hand, have always been more mobile, and traveled around either as seafarers or warriors. From distant lands they brought back different newer tunes and other topics to sing about. This cycle represents such men’s songs, a repertoire already a hundred years old. These songs reflect in general a humorous and cheerful atmosphere. Some may be even indecent, so that the singers shun from articulating all the words instead: mh-mh-mh. These men songs may be performed in cycles or as single movements.

I. Meeste laul (Men’s Song)

Meie oleme aga mehed kui metsapullid, Aru Jaani hallid sõnnid, läheme muudkui metsa mõirates ja tammikusse tallates.

We are men like wild bulls,
Aru Jaan’s grey steers, bellowing we go to the woods,
trampling to the oak grove.
Las tulevad aga tuhat Tuudi meest ja sada Sauga valla meest, küll meie neid siis puistame ja margapuuga mõõdame!

Kütame küla külmad suanad,
teeme terveks haiged neiud,
laseme kuppu Kaiele, mahakukkund Maiele.

Ei meie hooli uppumist
ega karda kaevu kukkumist, jookseme otseti ojasse,
kaksiti karupesasse.

VII. Teomehe-laul (Serf’s Song)

Let them come, the thousand men of Tuudi, another hundred from Sauga parish,
we shall scatter them to the winds and take their measure by steelyard.

We shall heat up the cold village saunas,
heal sickly maidens,
put cupping glasses on Kaie, and on fallen Maie.

We do not fear drowning
nor falling into a well, headlong we plunge into a creek,
rush into a bear’s lair.

Others have beds and others have games,
I have neither a bed nor a game,
trouble I have and a bondman’s care,
no escape from them.

When I, poor me, get tired,
where shall I lay this burden?
Trouble I set on the black beam, care I cast on the perch.

In the morning, bond again for me,
the tiny,
the wee me, (again) onto my masters field.
Trouble comes back into my bosom, care runs along into the yard.

Oh, Lord, dear Lord, throw down some hoisting ropes
so I could enter the heavenly bond, make hay for Maria in the Creator’s realm.
VIII. Tantsulaul (Dancing Song)

Las aga meie Mari tulla, küll mina teen tal jalad alla.
Ait-tali-rali-raa, ali-ramp-tamp-taa.
Utireetu, utireetu, trallallaa.
Mul sukakannas suured augud just nagu vana mära laugud.
Kõrv minul ajab jorupilli,
Alt-Tare Jüri torupilli.

Let our Mari come,
I shall get her on her feet.
Ait-tali-rali-raa, ali-ramp-tamp-taa.
Utireetu, utireetu, trallallaa.
My sock heels have holes
like an old mare’s blaze.
My ears are singing as if Jüri from next door was playing the pipes.

Yonder Come Day | Paul John Rudoi
Georgia Sea Islands Song

Yonder Come Day deepens the traditional Georgia Sea Islands tune with a narrative journey. Through other well-known spirituals including Hush, Hush, Somebody's Calling My Name, Steal Away, and Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, we move forward and upward, hoping for a better day.

- Paul John Rudoi

Oh day, Yonder come day.
Day done broke inna my soul, Yonder come day.
Good mornin’ day, Yonder come day.
A brand new day, Yonder come day.
Oh come on child,
Hush, hush, somebody’s callin’ my name.
Oh my Lord, oh my Lord what shall I do?

Oh day, Yonder come day.
I was on my knees, Yonder come day.
When I heard him say, Yonder come day.

Steal away, steal away, steal away to Jesus.
Swing low, sweet chariot, comin’ for to carry me home.

Day done broke inna my soul, Yonder come day.
